Mr. Dorsey would be an excellent man to expedite the democratic party.

Mr. Tilden has a valuable oil painting called "The Hopeless Case." That would be a good name for the democratic party.

As striking is becoming quite popular and quite in style, the dudes should lose no time to get in the front rank of fashion.

The Pennsylvania legislature was in session nearly half a year—long enough to give every state the blues—but it had one redeeming feature about it, it passed very few bills.

The democrats are evidently afraid of the result in Iowa next fall. They propose to send Senator McDonald and Thomas A. Hendricks and Governor Glick to that state to make campaign speeches.

If the students go back on the dead languages, there will be less complaint come from the Latin and Greek than from any other quarter. They have been tortured so much by the student that a little rest would be a refreshing relief.

What politics fails to contribute in the way of excitement this year, is made up by base ball. This country would certainly be a poor stick if it wasn't for base ball clubs. They throw our colleges and industrial enterprises in the shade.

There is strong hope at last that the officers of the army will in time, be as moral and decent as other people. Another officer has been dismissed for bad conduct. If this thing keeps on much longer the present officers of the army will be cleaned out.

The quickest time ever made on a regular train from San Francisco to Chicago, was this week when newspapers left the former city on the evening of last Saturday, and reached the Chicago Journal office on Thursday morning, being only four days and five nights on the way.

Dan Rice, the venerable and well known circus manager and clown, has not played a game of cards since 1849. His last game was on the Ohio river, when traveling on his own steamboat. There were famous gamblers around the table that night, and when the party quit, Rice was $182,000 ahead. He then promised that he would never handle another card in any way, and has faithfully kept his promise.

The Inter Ocean very timely answers the statement that Dorsey carried Indiana in 1880. It says: "The republican victory in Indiana in 1880 belonged not to Dorsey, or to any other of the several able gentlemen who claim to have carried the state for Garfield. Such men as Conkling, Harrison, and others did much, but the election turned upon the question of the protection of our industries. The hour it was made prominent the victory was won by the honest votes of workmen in every section of the state."

A few weeks ago a nice little story started the rounds of the press to the effect that President Arthur wrote poetry when he was young, and that he was the author of the poem beginning—

Pray should I, a little lad,
The story just got fairly under way when some eastern papers took all the romance out of it by showing that thousands and thousands of people had spoken that little poem at school long before President Arthur was born. We are glad that the authorship of that popular poem is known, and we are also glad that writing poetry for the newspaper can never be imputed to President Arthur.

A dispatch from Milwaukee says that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul will not allow any more excursions over their lines. The dispatch says: "On Sunday next an excursion is to be run from Rockford to Milwaukee and return over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway via Beloit, Janesville and Whitewater. This will probably be about the last excursion of the season over the St. Paul railway, and the management has about soured on the excursion trade. Not that there is no money made from excursions, but a long and patient experience has taught them that well-run excursion trains, in these days of railroad activity, are a hindrance to regular traffic, an undue annoyance to employees and a nuisance on general principles."

The first meeting of the Monona Lake Assembly at Madison will begin next Tuesday, and for that day the following is the programme:

1. Organization of the Chorus.
2. Prof. W. F. SUGRAN.
3. The Bible—Long Text.
4. Grand opening of the Third Annual Session of the Monona Lake Assembly and Dedication of the Tabernacle.
5. Anthem.
6. Prayer.
7. Special Dedication Service, prepared by Prof. W. F. SUGRAN.
8. Dedication Address, by Bishop H. W. WALKER, D. D., of Atlanta, Ga.
9. Anthem.
10. Brief Congratulatory Addresses.
11. Prof. W. A. FISK, Pres. of the Assembly.
12. Pres. W. C. GOSSET, Columbus, Ohio.
13. H. M. ELLIOT, Columbia.
14. Rev. E. L. EATON, and others.

The exercises during the two weeks of the encampment will be of unusual interest, and of great benefit, and will be more successful than ever before.

The position of Mr. Tilden on the presidential question is briefly summarized up by the Philadelphia Times as follows:

1. Mr. Tilden will gladly accept the nomination for the presidency—if he can get it.
2. He will write one of the best of political epistles, to be read in convention, declining the nomination—if he can't get it.

3. He will continue to maintain his present proclaimed indifference about the presidential nomination, and prove that he doesn't care a button about it, by—doing his level best to launch a Tilden majority in convention.

The democratic party will count the influence of the ball in the coming campaign, and Mr. Tilden will not have much trouble in seducing the convention.

THE STRUGGLE.

No Improvement in the Matter of the Telegraphers' Strike and No Back-Down.

The Western Union Remains Firm. But the Baltimore & Ohio Talking of Compromise.

CHICAGO, July 21.—There were few new developments in the telegraphers' strike. During the day the Western Union increased its number of employees from thirty to 100, while the Baltimore & Ohio received considerable accessions from country operators who had been drawn to the city with the expectation of taking the positions left vacant by the strikers. Business circles felt the effect of the strike a trifle more severely than on the first day, and some apprehension exists for the future. Though messages were received by the Western Union company subject to delay, the officials stated all mail was being handled promptly and the condition would probably be improved to-day. On the other hand, the strikers claimed to have information that not more than twenty-five of the company's employees were capable operators and that a good portion of its business was being done by mail. There was no trouble among the railroad operators and some of the companies professed assistance to the Western Union. No disturbances of any kind have been reported, and the strikers have thus far conducted their proceedings in an orderly manner. The most important news received was apparently authentic information that the Baltimore & Ohio company was seeking to make terms with the striking operators, and that negotiations were in progress between the executive committee of the telegraphers' union and the officials of the Baltimore & Ohio. Manager McCulloch, of the local office, and Supt. Flynn, in an interview with a reporter expressed the belief that their company would reach a settlement, as it was found impossible to transact business. The rumored compromise is on a basis of 10 per cent. increase, and at an early hour in the morning the strikers claim to have intelligence contradictory of the report.

WESTERN UNION OPINION. The spirit of cheerfulness which characterized the officials of the Western Union did not desert them, so far as the public are concerned. The operating room worked with its usual noise and confusion, and check-boys ran hither and thither with the same energy as heretofore. The officials claimed to have 100 operators in the room at 3:30 o'clock. Supt. Tubbs handed an instrument on the board of telegraphers' union, and when a reporter asked him if he were not pressed for men, he answered: "Oh, no. We are turning them away, and we have as many as we know what to do with." The superintendent was in very good humor, and it was safe to say to him: "The strikers claim that the Western Union company has been doing some pretty tall lying about the number of good operators it has." "The Western Union never lies," Mr. Tubbs answered smilingly. "It is above that. Whatever we have told you is the truth. We have turned away fair operators for whom we have no work. There is not the usual pressure of telegraph business on us now, because many people hang back from their messages will not reach their destinations. We have 100 operators at work up-stairs, and accessions are being made hourly to the ranks."

Supt. Glynn was seen during the afternoon. His spirits were apparently undimmed. "There is no change in the situation," he said. "We regard the strikers as beaten, and feel elated. We are surprised that we are able to do so well. Dispatches are coming every hour, giving encouraging accounts and saying that operators who went out in the excitement of the hour are asking to be reinstated."

"Did you know the Baltimore & Ohio was reported to be given in?" "What is that? Oh, no. John W. Garrett is not the man to let a mob of strikers dictate to him."

"Well, he did it in 1877 in the railroad strike," remarked a gentleman who happened to be present. "He did not altogether let them dictate to him, but he was one of the first to knuckle under."

BROTHERHOOD HEADQUARTERS. The striking operators began to congregate around the headquarters at Ullick's hall at 6 o'clock, and an hour later a meeting was called, 50 were on hand. The members of the brotherhood sharply criticised the reports published in the morning papers of the situation in other cities, claiming that they were all distorted by the Western Union company. The "press committee" was therefore early set to work to supply information which would show the falsity of these reports. The telegraphers were in good spirits, claiming that there were no signs of any disaffection in the ranks of the brotherhood, but that the contrary was true, as they were accessions hourly from operators who had come into the city to take the place of the strikers but had deserted the company when they learned the true status of affairs. There was no lack of confidence in the feeling shown by the men as they talked among themselves. Numerous stories were told of the greenness of the new hands, and these were greatly relished by the members of the brotherhood. One was of a country operator who was given a style for manifold work, and wanted to know "how the damned iron pen worked."

After the adjournment of the afternoon meeting, about 6 o'clock in the evening, the hundred or more operators who lingered about the hall set up a noisy cheer at the appearance of a procession of check-boys, who entered the hall with the announcement that they had "struck" and wanted to join the brotherhood. "We couldn't stand them stupid country fellows and the company forced us to leave them," said the smallest of the boys. "Where's that gang we're going to ride?" It was further explained that the check-boys had joined in the strike, and that a volunteer committee was escorting them home. The total number of the youthful strikers were thirty or thirty-five. The strikers claimed that in the present condition of the Western Union operating-room, the desertion of the boys and girls was not altogether a joke. They distributed all the messages, knew every wire, every table and every hook in the office. While the company might easily fill their places just at present, it was claimed that ten days would be required to familiarize them with the work.

THE LATEST NEWS. A committee from the brotherhood were in the neighborhood of the Western Union office at 1 o'clock interviewing every operator who came down-stairs and gathering information on the condition of the office. A number of hawks were at the street corner, and the operators entered them and were driven away. They looked very much fagged out. There was some little excitement going on. "We have discovered a number of new things," said a member of the committee on hand. "We feel confident that the company cannot hold any longer to-day or tomorrow. They are straining every nerve to keep up, but the men who have been at the instruments nearly thirty-six hours, with only a little time for sleep, are gradually becoming exhausted." A statement was made that the men who were left in Cleveland after the strike had joined the brotherhood, and that at 1 o'clock this morning no communication could be had with that city. At 1:30 o'clock this morning it was stated also that there would be at Western Union operators on the board of trade, and that unless the Chicago and Milwaukee and the board of telegraphers' union could cover this important point, the board would be left in a crippled condition. The telegraphers who were about the office were very jubilant. Supt. Tubbs was about the office until half-past 1 o'clock, when he left to lunch. The strike of the check boys was felt to a very great degree, and the clerks in the lower office, it was said, were taken temporarily upstairs to fill their places. A reporter who visited the operating-room early this morning found signs of activity and general energy, but the operators looked very tired. A number of the operators were railroad telegraphers.

The statement that the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company was negotiating for a settlement with the executive committee of the strikers in New York received confirmation.

Shortly before 2 o'clock a dispatch was received by a committee of the strikers from strikers in Baltimore, announcing that the Baltimore & Ohio was willing to compromise at 10 per cent. increase in pay. "We will probably accept the proposition," said the operator who furnished the information, "because the Baltimore & Ohio has always treated us well and because it pays higher wages than the Western Union, and 10 per cent. to it will be equivalent to 15 per cent. by the Western Union. The Baltimore & Ohio is perfectly helpless, and I think some arrangement will be made between it and the brotherhood." A further confirmation of the statement is the fact that Manager McCulloch, of the Baltimore & Ohio, was to have addressed the meeting of telegraphers at Ullick's hall in their behalf, but was deterred by the fact that the meeting was public.

EFFECT ON BUSINESS. Business circles felt the effect of the strike rather more keenly than on the first day, though the facilities for telegraphing were better, and the company's systematic workings showed no break. The Western Union officials gave assurances that, owing to the small amount of business offered, they were able to handle all business promptly, but the general public was apprehensive, and was not willing to take the risk. Some firms attempted to do so, but the small amount of telegraphic communication also complained of vexatious delays and mistakes. Others denounced the poor telegraphic service without taking the trouble to test it. On "Change there seemed to be more general embarrassment from the blockade than there was the day before. Especially the smaller brokers complained that they were completely shut off from communication from their customers. On the other hand the big concerns, such as Armour, David Davis & Co., and others, whose monthly bills are very large, said that their messages were going through all right. None of the hotel offices are open.

FROM OTHER POINTS. NEW YORK, July 21.—The condition of affairs in the main office of the Western Union Telegraph company in this city was bad. According to the unprejudiced statements of well informed employees of the company the number of competent operators who did not exceed forty and not more than ten or twelve of these could be called first-class. The business of transmitting messages was greatly embarrassed, and the working force according to creditable accounts, was hopelessly behind on the regular day's business. The money-order department and nearly all of the branch offices in this city remain closed. There are between 200 and 300 operators usually employed by the Western Union company in this city. The company's officers say that less than two-thirds of the whole number have quit work. The brotherhood leaders say that seven-eighths have joined their movement. The members of the brotherhood made no attempt to interfere with the operators who desired to obtain work.

Postmaster Pearson said to-day that the telegraphic troubles had made a perceptible increase in the amount of outgoing mail matter. Reports from Indianapolis are to the effect that the Western Union is getting along nicely. New operators are coming in rapidly, and it will not be long before the difficulty will be over. Operators will be immediately sent to Evansville and Terre Haute. At Milwaukee the work was running smoothly, with four operators at work. At Boston the strikers were buoyant in spirit. None of the western offices are closed, but all are being handled as fast as it comes in, but the office is short-handed. At Cincinnati business to the amount of two-thirds the regular quantity was done. Recruits are coming in. At Pittsburgh there is no change in the situation. At St. Louis the situation is about the same.

With reference to the reported desire of the Baltimore & Ohio to compromise Superintendent McCulloch said: "We would have negotiated before if we had a town any other than Janesville."

LONGER SITUATION. A letter from the Western Union. The railroad operators at Pittsburgh have been ordered to go into the Western Union offices, but threaten to strike if the order is insisted upon. At Washington the Western Union officials talk confidently.

Gold is exchangeable for currency in Havana at the rate of 24 to 100. TELEPHONE MONOPOLY.

The Companies of New England Being Consolidated.—The New Capital Stock to Be About $15,000,000. Boston, Mass., July 21.—The consolidation of the New England telephone companies, in which the American Telephone company as well as the Lowell syndicate are largely interested, has probably been perfected. The consolidation involves a considerable increase in the present capital stock of the companies to bring them upon a common 6 per cent. dividend-paying basis, as several of them now pay dividends considerably in excess of that figure. The following are the principal features of the plan: The Eastern Telephone company, which comprises Essex county, Massachusetts, and nearly the whole of New Hampshire and Vermont, now has a capital of $1,000,000, of which the American Bell company owns $200,000. This will probably be put in at 20,000 shares, or $2,000,000. It now pays 12 per cent. dividend, but in future it is proposed to make the dividend of the consolidated company 6 per cent. The New England Telephone company now has $300,000 capital, of which the American Bell owns $340,000. This capital will doubtless be increased 50 per cent. to $1,500,000, as it now pays 9 per cent. dividends. The National Bell Telephone company of Maine now has a capital of $1,500,000, having been recently increased by a 200 per cent. stock dividend from its original capital of $500,000, and now pays 5 per cent. By the reduction of expenses and the gradual growth of the business, it is believed that a uniform 6 per cent. dividend can be earned on this stock, so that it will doubtless go in at the present valuation. The Granite State company, of Manchester, N. H., with a capital of $120,000 will doubtless remain the same under the new arrangement. Its dividends heretofore have been 5 per cent. The Suburban Telephone company, embracing the cities and towns within a radius of fifteen miles about Boston, now has $250,000 capital. This will doubtless be increased to $500,000, as it is now paying dividends at the rate of 9 per cent. and has paid 10. The capital of the Southern Massachusetts will probably be doubled and made $1,000,000. The Telephone Dispatch company, which covers the city of Boston, will probably be put in at $2,000,000 and will probably earn 6 per cent. on that. The Connecticut Telephone company, with headquarters at New Haven, and which embraces nearly the whole of the state, will also probably be put in at $2,000,000. Its dividends are large, and its stock quoted from 175 to 200. The Providence Telephone company, which embraces also several towns outside of Providence, will probably go in at $500,000. In addition to the companies mentioned there are several small companies and exchanges which will be put in at less amounts, making the aggregate capital of the consolidated company somewhere between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

WATTERSON ON RANDALL. Some Reasons Why the Pennsylvania Man Should Gracefully Withdraw From the Speakership Race. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21.—The Courier-Journal says editorially: "The Courier-Journal has never intentionally designed to injure the character or thwart the ambition of Mr. Samuel J. Randall. In his person Mr. Randall is as acceptable to us as any Democratic member of the house. Under a different state of case his restoration to the speakership would not only be advisable, from considerations of a presidential and political description, but would fall in generally with many ties of memory and association. But, in our judgment, his election will, if it does not prove the signal for the dissolution of the Democratic party, retard, to a ruinous extent, the growth and progress of sound economic principles, on which the future of the party must depend. Mr. Randall is a protectionist. The Democratic party is nothing if it be not a revenue reformer. To elect Mr. Randall speaker is to reverse the wheels of reform, to secure the retention of the lands of the enemy and to set aside a sagacious and carefully-laid plan of campaign at the bidding of the Republicans, who, after Judge Kelley, prefer Mr. Randall. In a word, the election of Mr. Randall will do for the Republicans what they cannot do for themselves, and will be heralded by the Republican press as a Republican triumph. This the Democratic party is in no mood to submit to. If Mr. Randall be wise man, he will not let it take time to save himself. Not in fear, but in friendship, do we advise him to get out of a contest in which he has everything to lose and nothing to gain. The speakership he cannot have. But the leadership of the house, upon all questions except the tariff, would be readily accorded him. It is because he is a good man, whom we would not have sacrificed at a time when the party needs all its strength, that we urge him to the course we have indicated."

TRUTH ABOUT TILDEN. The Courier-Journal Editor Supplements His Late Letter About the Greystone Sage. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21.—The Courier-Journal says editorially: "Newspapers which persist in believing, or affecting to believe, that Mr. Tilden desires to be the next Democratic nominee for president, simply discredit their own intelligence. Neither The New York Sun nor The Courier-Journal has any motive but the truth for the statement that he is in the country. Both The Sun and The Courier-Journal are in possession of facts which furnish irrefutable proof that the 'old ticket' could be nominated without serious opposition in 1884. In 1880 it was Mr. Hendricks who stood in the way. To-day it is Mr. Tilden. Nothing could induce him to accept the office, to say nothing about the nomination. The old statesman's health is excellent. He enjoys life abundantly. He is surrounded by all that can make it happy, and he has no idea of shortening it or entering its declining years by a return to the busy thrall of a political career, which, pursued without self-seeking, terminated with an act of renunciation as self-respecting as it was sincere. A more dignified and genial gentleman, or one who dispenses a simpler and nobler hospitality, or has a heartier welcome for his friends, or takes a deeper interest in his country and his party, may be nowhere found. But those who have the happiness and honor of Mr. Tilden's confidence and friendship can truly say of him that the man does not live who cares so little for place, for place's sake, as he does, and has always done. He can not fail to be conscious that the retired statesman and philosopher at Greystone is at once a more attractive figure in the present and a fitter and greater subject for history than a dozen presidents of the United States."

skillfully and conscientiously prepared, and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of disease. We must come to a conclusion in precisely the same manner that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what he accomplishes, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputation of a patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. * Many of those medicines came out of regular practice, and were prepared originally prescribed by the best physicians. * * * Very few of them, we believe are humbugs and frauds in the consciousness or the intent of their makers. * The people, who are necessarily induced by doctors and of medicine

Chronic Diseases.

A Special Study for Years.

Dr. F. B. BREWER,

Has made Chronic Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

A special treatment for years. He is not a haphazard, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of malady that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinion and in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call, investigate and decide for themselves. It will cost nothing to do so. Address all letters to Dr. F. B. BREWER, 111 Lock Box 350, Chicago, Ill.

Dr. F. B. Brewer will be at Janesville, Myers house, Saturday the 11th of July.
